Parking in Northside and Pine Knolls

Do you live, own property, or often visit the Northside or Pine Knolls neighborhoods? If so, new and existing parking regulations could affect you! On Sept. 1, 2012, a new regulation will go into effect which states that maximum of four cars will be allowed on a lot. Owners of duplexes and triplexes may apply to the Planning Board for an exception to this regulation to allow up to six cars on a lot.

Park only in designated parking areas, not on grass. Only 40 percent of the front-yard in the Northside neighborhood, and 30 percent in the Pine Knolls neighborhood, can be designated for parking.

Violations of this regulation could result in fines of up to $100 per day until the violation is corrected.

Unsure if you live in or visit the Northside or Pine Knolls neighborhoods? View a map of the area at <http://tinyurl.com/cczamfo>
