Big Library Read

Join a worldwide reading experience! Four Corners of the Sky, by North Carolina author Michael Malone, will be simultaneously available to all Chapel Hill Public Library cardholders and other participating libraries' patrons worldwide through June 1. Download the book at chapelhillpubliclibrary.org (look for the NCDL link). Information: 919-968-2780

Community Solid Waste Forum

The public is invited to a Solid Waste Forum to be held from 6 to 8:30 p.m. Thursday, May 30, at the Chapel Hill Public Library, 100 Library Drive.

Organized by the Town of Chapel Hill Sustainability Committee and Orange County's Commission for the Environment, the forum is open to all interested Orange County and Durham County residents and businesses.

Learn more about current waste management practices and join in a discussion about long-term waste management goals for the region. The purpose of the event is to inform the public, gather feedback from the community and foster regional collaboration.

Obey Creek Walking Tour

Tour the Obey Creek property at 10 a.m. Saturday, June 1. Those interested in attending should meet at Ascension Hall in Christ Methodist Church, 800 Market St.

Obey Creek is a 124-acre property under consideration for a mixed use development proposed for the area across South 15-501 from Southern Village. The property has difficult terrain and may not be easily navigable for some. Wear appropriate footwear and clothing. Tour photographs will be posted at the website below.

Volunteers Needed!

The newly renovated Chapel Hill Public Library is now open in Pritchard Park. The Parks and Recreation Department will sponsor a volunteer work day on June 1, National Trails Day, to repair the natural trail system that serves the park and provides pedestrian access to the library.

If you'd like to help, meet at the library's lower parking lot at 10 a.m. Saturday, June 1. Bring work gloves and bring rakes and/or loppers if you have them.
