Banned Books Week Trading Cards Exhibit

Each day during Banned Books Week, Sept 22-28, stop by Chapel Hill Public Library and collect a limited edition Banned Book Trading Card - one for every day of the week.

These cards were designed by local artists and inspired by books that have been censored or banned. The seven cards were selected from more than 48 submissions, which will be on display in the library lobby all week. A new collectible card will be unveiled every day. By the end of the week, local art lovers and literature lovers can have a unique collection of art that also conveys an important message about intellectual freedom.

Board of Adjustment Notice

The Chapel Hill Board of Adjustment will meet at 7 p.m. Wednesday, Oct. 2, at the Seymour Center Theater – Orange County Senior Center at 2551 Homestead Road, to consider an agenda that includes the following:

Two variance requests to the Land Use Management Ordinance for property located at 1006 Wave Road, including variances to the 1) Jordan Riparian Buffer/Resource Conservation District and 2) Septic/Well regulations.

Launch of LUMO Update

Another DESIGN 2020 project is about to launch – the review and update of Chapel Hill's land use and development rules, which are currently outlined in a document called the Land Use Management Ordinance (LUMO). The LUMO Update will work to revise and modernize the 10-year-old zoning and codes rulebook that guides and directs the development of land in Chapel Hill.

The Town of Chapel Hill will host a series of LUMO Update events beginning in September.
