Don't Miss Festifall on Oct. 6!

Chapel Hill's annual celebration of the arts transforms Franklin Street from noon to 6 p.m.

Sunday, Oct. 6. Festifall brings interactive art activities, live music and dance and a vibrant artist's market where you can find the perfect gift or unique work of art for your home.

Festifall showcases some of the area's best music, including nationally-acclaimed Hindugrass, Tokyo Rosenthal, Tea Cup Gin, A Mad Affair and Pinkerton Raid. The festival also features Dance Evolution, including the Cane Creek Cloggers and Foot Notes Tap Ensemble. Chapel Hill's own Dominant Young Souls and UNC Dance Marathon's Misconception face off in a Town and Gown Hip Dance Battle. Interactive Mania brings Poetry Fox back to create on-the-spot poetry. Families can compete in the Tumble Gym obstacle course or make wearable art on the Tie-Dye Bus.

The Ackland Art Museum invites community members of all ages to create a mobile sculpture on top of your own bicycle, wagon, or cart. Ackland and local community members will work together to create a Pop-Up Exhibition of our Art on the Move at Festifall.

Take the free shuttle to the festival on Chapel Hill Transit or bike in! Information: www.townofchapelhill.org/festifall

Board of Adjustment Notice

The Chapel Hill Board of Adjustment meeting originally scheduled for Oct. 2 has been postponed to 7 p.m. Wednesday, Nov. 6. The Board will meet at the Seymour Center Theater, Orange County Senior Center, 2551 Homestead Road, to consider an agenda that includes the following:

Two variance requests to the Land Use Management Ordinance for property located at 1006 Wave Road, including variances to the 1) Jordan Riparian Buffer/Resource Conservation District regulations and 2) Public Water and Sewer regulations.

Meet-the-Author Tea

The Friends of the Chapel Hill Public Library welcome Jill McCorkle, whose newest release is titled "Life after Life," on Thursday, Oct. 3, at a Meet-the-Author Tea. Meet-the-Author Teas provide an opportunity to hear published authors read from and discuss their works. Refreshments will be served at 3:30 p.m. and the program will begin at 4 p.m. in Meeting Room B at the Chapel Hill Public Library. The program is free and open to the public.
