Arbor Day Celebration

The Town's annual Arbor Day celebration will be held at 10 a.m. Friday, Nov. 22, outside the Chapel Hill Public Library. Students from Estes Hills Elementary School will help plant an oak tree. This is Chapel Hill's 14th consecutive year as a Tree City.

Arbor Day was set by the Town Council in November 2000. Each year in November the Town celebrates trees at its Arbor Day ceremony by planting one or more trees at a Town-owned facility such as a park or an entryway.

Rosemary Imagined Input Session

What is your vision for Rosemary Street? Does it include an innovative identity or perhaps a more connected and walkable environment? Join community members, Town and University leaders, and downtown business and property owners for the Rosemary Imagined Input Session from 5:30 to 7:30 p.m. Thursday, Nov. 21, at Hargraves Community Center, 216 N. Roberson St.

Rosemary Imagined is an innovative community-led planning initiative that will refine our thinking of how Rosemary Street fits into the development and growth of downtown Chapel Hill. Come for information, conversation, and imagination about Rosemary Street and share your thoughts!

This event is part of a 10-month process of engagement with the Town of Chapel Hill and community members to bring together several recent initiatives into a complete vision for the future of the Rosemary Street corridor.

Book Discussions at the Library

Join us at 6:30 p.m. Tuesday, Nov. 19, at the Chapel Hill Public Library for a facilitated discussion of "The Butterfly Mosque: A Young American Woman's Journey to Love and Islam" by G. Willow Wilson, part of the Bridging Cultures: Muslim Journeys grant. A limited number of copies are available at the upper level service desk.

The Chapel Hill Public Library was awarded the Bridging Cultures: Muslim Journeys grant with the goal of promoting a better understanding of the diverse histories, cultures and perspectives of our Muslim neighbors in Chapel Hill, the United States and abroad. Learn more: check out a book or DVD; attend a program; invite your friends, family and neighbors.

The Monday Night Book Group will meet at 7 p.m. Monday, Nov. 18, to discuss "A Primate's Memoir" by Robert Sapolsky. The book discussion group meets the third Monday of each month except July and December.
