Subject: Chapel Hill Police Station Coal Ash Update

Roger,

Falcon Engineering, the Town's environmental consultant, is currently resampling the groundwater monitoring wells and taking soil samples at the Chapel Hill Police Station. This work was scheduled to be done this month in response to guidance we received from NC DEQ in their letter dated October 23, 2015. A copy of that letter and all previous reports and NC DEQ letters regarding the Police Station site can be found on the Town's coal ash web page. We anticipate receiving a report from our consultants with results from this latest round of testing in early March.

We recently received additional guidance from NC DEQ in the attached letter dated February 11, 2016. This letter recommends that the Town take additional soil samples in a section of the Police Station site where upcoming greenway construction will require soil excavation. In response to this we have expanded Falcon Engineering's scope of work to include this supplemental soil testing. This testing is being done concurrently with Falcon Engineering's previously scheduled sampling work and the results will be included in their upcoming report. As we have done previously, we will forward this report to NC DEQ and follow their subsequent recommendations. We will also post NC DEQ's February 11, 2016 letter along with a copy of this email update now, and Falcon Engineering's upcoming report when it is received, on the Town's coal ash web page.

Please contact me if you have any questions or need additional information.

Sincerely,

Lance
