Mayors Save Water Challenge

Take the Pledge to Save Water! Crown your town the water winner!

On Friday, March 22, (World Water Day), Chapel Hill Mayor Pam Hemminger challenged Carrboro Mayor Lydia Lavelle in a friendly and fun community competition to encourage everyone to SAVE WATER!

World Water Day is an annual UN observance day that highlights the importance of freshwater. The day is used to advocate for the sustainable management of freshwater resources. World Water Day is celebrated around the world with a variety of events.

In accepting the challenge, Carrboro and Chapel Hill have decided to have a bit of fun throughout the month of April as we focus attention on the importance of our most valuable natural resource.

This year's first-ever Carrboro-Chapel Hill Mayors Save Water Challenge coincides with OWASA's roll-out of Agua Vista – a new on-line tool that helps customers monitor water usage.

Beginning April 1, visit the OWASA website to take a PLEDGE to save or protect water in one or more simple ways. The town that collects the largest percentage of pledges through April 30 will win.

The winning community will be announced on Friday, May 3, at the end of the campaign when the winning mayor will receive the Golden Faucet award trophy along with bragging rights for the year!

Sign up for Agua Vista: OWASA (Orange Water and Sewer Authority) customers are invited to track their water use and identify leaks via the Agua Vista portal at www.owasa.org. Plus, get tips on how to conserve water and set up alerts for leaks and bill forecasts – savings for the planet and your pocketbook.

Agua Vista means "water in sight." When we see how much water we use and save, the more we can sustain this vital resource together.
