What perspective(s) do you bring to the board(s), commission(s), committee(s) or task force(s) to which you are applying?

I believe that parks, greenways and recreational space should be available to every person in Chapel Hill in the place that they live and work. We need to reverse the trend that the average child in the world spends less time outdoors than a person in prison who is mandated to receive two hours a day in the outdoors. Chapel Hill's parks should be located so that they are accessible to every person who lives and works in Chapel Hill. I would like to work on the board to collaborate with the town to continue to enhance our great parks, recreation, and greenways. I have a particular interest in enhancing the Ephesus Fordham area. I would like to see the Booker Creek portion of Ephesus Fordham turned into a functional scenic recreation space for the residents of Chapel Hill. There is a unique opportunity to form a public private partnership to make the area a place for all residents to enjoy the outdoors.

Please provide a brief summary of any other relevant qualifications (skills, abilities, interests and/or experience) you bring.

I am currently serving as the Vice Chair of the Parks Commission. I am interested in remaining on the Commission for another term. I have organized an Adopt-A-Trail program on the Lower Booker Creek Trail. We would like to expand the model to other parks/greenways in town.

Ethics Statement

ETHICS GUIDELINES FOR TOWN ADVISORY BOARDS AND COMMISSIONS

Members of advisory boards and commissions shall not discuss, advocate, or vote on any matter in which they have a conflict of interest or an interest which reasonably might appear to be in conflict with the concept of fairness in dealing with public business. A conflict of interest or a potential conflict occurs if a member has a separate, private, or monetary interest, either direct or indirect, in any issue or transaction under consideration. In addition, members of the Historic District Commission and Board of Adjustment, when these boards are hearing cases, serve as quasi-judicial bodies. Pursuant to State Statute 106A-388(e)(2), members of these boards “shall not participate in or vote on any quasi-judicial matter in a manner that would violate affected persons’ constitutional rights to an impartial decision maker. Impermissible violations of due process include, but are not limited to, a member having a fixed opinion prior to hearing the matter that is not susceptible to change, undisclosed ex parte communications, a close familial, business, or other associational relationship with an affected person, or a financial interest in the outcome of the matter.”

Any member who violates these Ethics Guidelines may be subject to removal from the board or commission. If the advisory board or commission member believes he/she has a conflict of interest then that member should ask the advisory board or commission to be recused from voting. The advisory board or commission should then vote on the question on whether or not to excuse the member making the request. In cases where the individual member or the advisory board or commission establishes a conflict of interest, then the advisory board or commission member shall remove themselves from the voting area. Any advisory board or commission member may seek the counsel of the Town Attorney on questions regarding the interpretation of these ethics guidelines or other conflict of interest matters. The interpretation may include a recommendation on whether or not the advisory board or commission member should excuse himself/herself from voting. The advisory board or commission member may request the Town Attorney respond in writing.

What perspective(s) do you bring to the board(s), commission(s), committee(s) or task force(s) to which you are applying?

A large proportion of my professional career as a research scientist focused on issues related to maintaining fisheries and the natural resources upon which they rely. This experience has given me insight into the perennial tension that exists between the environment and societal economic and recreational interests. The goal of my participation on fisheries management boards has always been to maximize environmental sustainability while enabling levels of community use and interaction with nature consistent with achieving sustainability. The portions of my career associated with teaching in the classroom and interacting with users on management committees has led me to maintain that successful environmental programs rely on effective public communication and education.

Please provide a brief summary of any other relevant qualifications (skills, abilities, interests and/or experience) you bring.

In my career I have been a college teacher, a researcher, and participant in state and federal management activities. These experiences have given me: 1) skills in communication to an array of audiences extending from lay to professional levels; 2) an ability to investigate primary and secondary literature relevant to environmental issues and to evaluate the quality of the information available; and 3) direct observation and participation in several agencies focused on environmental issues. I have successfully competed for and subsequently administered grants from private, state, and federal organizations. This has given me knowledge of strategies needed to compete for funds and of the challenges associated with completing grant-funded projects.

Ethics Statement

ETHICS GUIDELINES FOR TOWN ADVISORY BOARDS AND COMMISSIONS

Members of advisory boards and commissions shall not discuss, advocate, or vote on any matter in which they have a conflict of interest or an interest which reasonably might appear to be in conflict with the concept of fairness in dealing with public business. A conflict of interest or a potential conflict occurs if a member has a separate, private, or monetary interest, either direct or indirect, in any issue or transaction under consideration. In addition, members of the Historic District Commission and Board of Adjustment, when these boards are hearing cases, serve as quasi-judicial bodies. Pursuant to State Statute 106A-388(e)(2), members of these boards “shall not participate in or vote on any quasi-judicial matter in a manner that would violate affected persons’ constitutional rights to an impartial decision maker. Impermissible violations of due process include, but are not limited to, a member having a fixed opinion prior to hearing the matter that is not susceptible to change, undisclosed ex parte communications, a close familial, business, or other associational relationship with an affected person, or a financial interest in the outcome of the matter.”

Any member who violates these Ethics Guidelines may be subject to removal from the board or commission. If the advisory board or commission member believes he/she has a conflict of interest then that member should ask the advisory board or commission to be recused from voting. The advisory board or commission should then vote on the question on whether or not to excuse the member making the request. In cases where the individual member or the advisory board or commission establishes a conflict of interest, then the advisory board or commission member shall remove themselves from the voting area. Any advisory board or commission member may seek the counsel of the Town Attorney on questions regarding the interpretation of these ethics guidelines or other conflict of interest matters. The interpretation may include a recommendation on whether or not the advisory board or commission member should excuse himself/herself from voting. The advisory board or commission member may request the Town Attorney respond in writing.

What perspective(s) do you bring to the board(s), commission(s), committee(s) or task force(s) to which you are applying?

My wife and I recently moved to Chapel Hill and I was very happy to see the progress that has been made in greenway and recreation space since I attended UNC (2008-2012). I do believe that after living in different areas, I can help bring a new perspective to the town to hopefully brainstorm cost-effective ways to create a healthier and happier community. From increased sharrows and bike lanes to encourage less use of cars to an even more active roster of recreation activities, I believe we can foster the sense of community that we all strive for. I grew up playing tennis competitively, but am a fan of all sorts of athletic endeavors so I hope that I could empathize with our community members that use the parks, greenways and other recreation activities that Chapel Hill offers and in doing so help suggest policies that benefit all.

Please provide a brief summary of any other relevant qualifications (skills, abilities, interests and/or experience) you bring.

I am currently completing my PhD at Yale University and will graduate on January 24th, 2019 (although my wife and I have moved into Chapel Hill late last year). During my graduate work, I have also taken an active interest in policy, specifically by serving on the graduate student government, as the Chair of the Academics and Professional Development Committee. During my time leading the committee we were able to advise and successfully help the Yale administration enact several much needed policies. We streamlined the teaching assistant classifications by surveying students and collated their responses into a cohesive report to the Dean of the Graduate School. Additionally, we helped secure funding during the sixth year of study for all humanities and social sciences students--a policy that has benefited several hundred students already. During my time on the student government, we were also able to extend the campus gym hours, an extremely popular change that has offered students a healthy alternative to partying. I am very interested in helping Chapel Hill in any way I can, and I am passionate about enjoying the outdoors so I know I would bring energy and a hardworking attitude to this position.

Any member who violates this provision may be subject to removal from the board or commission.

If the advisory board or commission member believes he/she has a conflict of interest then that member should ask the advisory board or commission to be recused from voting. The advisory board or commission should then vote on the question on whether or not to excuse the member making the request. In cases where the individual member or the advisory board or commission establishes a conflict of interest, then the advisory board or commission member shall remove themselves from the voting area.

Any advisory board or commission member may seek the counsel of the Town Attorney on questions regarding the interpretation of these ethics guidelines or other conflict of interest matters. The interpretation may include a recommendation on whether or not the advisory board or commission member should excuse himself/herself from voting. The advisory board or commission member may request the Town Attorney respond in writing.

Advisory board and commission applicants shall agree to comply with the ethics guidelines as stated above.

I, William Jeffery Hall pledge to comply with the ethics guidelines for advisory boards and commissions as adopted by the Chapel Hill Town Council.

Dear Justice in Action Committee,

It is with great regret that I am writing to resign my position on the Town of Chapel Hill's Justice in Action Committee effective immediately.

Commitments in my personal life have left me in a position where I am unable to devote the time necessary to fulfill the volunteer roles in my life, including JIAC. Please know that this is a reflection neither of the board, nor the vital role that it plays in the life of our community. I sincerely hope that I will be able to help advance the goals of the board in some capacity as my personal commitments lessen.

It is my sincere hope that the Board will use my departure as a way to include a more diverse representation of our community among its members. I feel that adding as many kinds of voices as possible helps make the conversations and ideas much deeper and more reflective of all the members of our Town.

Thank you for your understanding, and best wishes moving forward.

Warm regards,
Jeff Hall

What perspective(s) do you bring to the board(s), commission(s), committee(s) or task force(s) to which you are applying?

I bring the perspective of previous service on a Town commission and advisory board and a hydrogeological perspective to technical and policy discussions.

Please provide a brief summary of any other relevant qualifications (skills, abilities, interests and/or experience) you bring.

I have expertise relevant to environmental issues that may come before the Stormwater Management Board or Parks, Greenways and Recreation Commission. These issues might involve watershed protection, stream buffers, and control of invasive plants (a particular interest of mine). My hydrogeological and geochemical skills are well suited to addressing them. I have demonstrated leadership as a former chair (2 yr) of the Orange County Commission for the Environment. I have served on the Town's Greenways Commission and the Environmental Stewardship Advisory Board. I am a regular volunteer at the NC Botanical Garden (Mason Farm) doing invasive-plant control, prairie and forest management, and controlled burns. Monthly, I join the Adopt-A-Trail group removing privet along Booker Creek. I hold a Ph.D. in geology from Johns Hopkins University and a M.S. and B.A. from the University of Wisconsin-Madison.

Interests & Experiences

What perspective(s) do you bring to the board(s), commission(s), committee(s) or task force(s) to which you are applying?

I am serving my third year on the Parks, Greenways, and Recreation Commission, and my second year as chair. In 2017, I served as a commission representative on the American Legion Task Force. I am reapplying to the commission so I can continue working on priorities that are important to the Parks and Recreation Department and the Town. I would like to mention three of them in this application. First, I am an advocate for free and reduced cost recreational opportunities that are available to the public. As we strive to make Chapel Hill an affordable place to live, we have to make sure it is also an affordable place to exercise, play, and connect with nature. We have made inroads with the school system to expand summer camp facilities and get more children into low cost summer activities, and this year we will help inform an update to the Parks and Recreation Master Plan. I feel strongly that an important role of the commission is to provide a forum for citizens to share their ideas and concerns. This planning process will be a good opportunity to hear from the community and integrate citizen input into planning. Second, it is a goal of mine for the commission to promote the Mobility and Connectivity Plan and galvanize community energy toward achieving its vision. Chapel Hill has a road map to become a more connected community and this commission has a role in making this vision a reality, and as soon as we can. Third, we are on the verge of creating new systems for people to give their time and money to support parks and recreation. Our commission helped launch the Adopt a Park program last year. As a member on the PGR Commission I want to continue promoting this program so that Chapel Hill is known as a model town for engaging volunteers. I have also recently become a board member with The Friends of Chapel Hill Parks and Recreation. Through The Friends I hope to play a role in raising funds that can see some big projects, such as the inclusive playground, come to fruition.

Please provide a brief summary of any other relevant qualifications (skills, abilities, interests and/or experience) you bring.

My experience with parks and local government started in Baltimore, Maryland, where I spent four years on the board of The Friends of Patterson Park. The Friends is in a public private partnership with the city to do two main things: run volunteer teams and programs, and raise money to support activities and services in the park. In this role I learned what it means to work with a city parks and recreation department, and how to engage with a community that often presented varied and conflicting ideas for what should be done with the park. Learning how to work with people who are passionate on an issue is a skill that commission members need in Chapel Hill and one that I have learned over the last three years. I was also a board member of Baltimore Green Space, a community land trust. There are thousands of vacant private lots in Baltimore, many of which house community gardens. We developed policy with the City to place vacant lots used by community groups into trust to be remain public land. This role gave me more experience of working with engaged citizens and a municipal government through a combination of public outreach and policy work. In addition to being a current member of the PGR Commission, I have been active in a number of roles: Father of two preschool children. Childhood Music Instructor with Jammin' Baby and Kidzu Children's' Museum Board Treasurer, North Carolinians Against Gun Violence Board Chair, North Carolinians Against Gun Violence Action Fund Substitute Teacher and Previous Board Member, Children's Cooperative Playschool Chapel Hill Farmers Market Retail Manager, Locals Seafood Adjunct Instructor of English As a Second Language at Durham Tech (Chapel Hill location) I my previous work life I was in Refugee Resettlement for almost ten years. Stemming from that I was a non-profit management consultant, which led into private industry training and development consulting. I have a BA in Linguistics from the University of Iowa, during which time I lived for one year in Zimbabwe and one year in Tanzania.

What perspective(s) do you bring to the board(s), commission(s), committee(s) or task force(s) to which you are applying?

I have a track record of collaborating with a variety of people in different environments and making improvements to existing processes. I also bring a holistic mindset to the table through my experiences listening to and integrating the needs of clients of various backgrounds while working as a Brokerage Investment Professional for Vanguard in Charlotte. My educational background in finance also supports me in taking a financially practical approach when making recommendations.

Please provide a brief summary of any other relevant qualifications (skills, abilities, interests and/or experience) you bring.

I am interested in serving on either the Greenways Commission or Arts Commission because they are two areas I have a strong interest in. I am a strong proponent of recreational spaces for the public to enjoy. I worked as a personal trainer for University Recreation while attending NC State and often use greenway trails to run or bike. I have also always had an interest in arts. I obtained a minor in journalism while attending NC State and have experience in journalistic writing for the Flyers Focus newspaper at Sandhills Community College and video/radio presentation for the Broadcast Meteorology Club at NC State. Last year, while I lived in Charlotte, I served on the production crew for Elevation Church's uptown campus. I also have a personal interest in music and am teaching myself piano and guitar. In school, I played the violin and trumpet (marching band) performed in musicals, and sang in youth choir. I have always enjoyed serving the community I live in and I intend on being in Carrboro/Chapel Hill for at the least the next several years, as I currently work at UNC and am contemplating attending grad school at UNC in the next year or so and I am seeking ways to serve this great community.

ETHICS GUIDELINES FOR TOWN ADVISORY BOARDS AND COMMISSIONS

Members of advisory boards and commissions shall not discuss, advocate, or vote on any matter in which they have a conflict of interest or an interest which reasonably might appear to be in conflict with the concept of fairness in dealing with public business. A conflict of interest or a potential conflict occurs if a member has a separate, private, or monetary interest, either direct or indirect, in any issue or transaction under consideration. In addition, members of the Historic District Commission and Board of Adjustment, when these boards are hearing cases, serve as quasi-judicial bodies. Pursuant to State Statute 106A-388(e)(2), members of these boards “shall not participate in or vote on any quasi-judicial matter in a manner that would violate affected persons’ constitutional rights to an impartial decision maker. Impermissible violations of due process include, but are not limited to, a member having a fixed opinion prior to hearing the matter that is not susceptible to change, undisclosed ex parte communications, a close familial, business, or other associational relationship with an affected person, or a financial interest in the outcome of the matter.”

Any member who violates these Ethics Guidelines may be subject to removal from the board or commission. If the advisory board or commission member believes he/she has a conflict of interest then that member should ask the advisory board or commission to be recused from voting. The advisory board or commission should then vote on the question on whether or not to excuse the member making the request. In cases where the individual member or the advisory board or commission establishes a conflict of interest, then the advisory board or commission member shall remove themselves from the voting area. Any advisory board or commission member may seek the counsel of the Town Attorney on questions regarding the interpretation of these ethics guidelines or other conflict of interest matters. The interpretation may include a recommendation on whether or not the advisory board or commission member should excuse himself/herself from voting. The advisory board or commission member may request the Town Attorney respond in writing.

What perspective(s) do you bring to the board(s), commission(s), committee(s) or task force(s) to which you are applying?

I grew up in Chapel Hill and have chosen to stay here, however, that doesn't mean I want Chapel Hill itself to stay the same. I've enjoyed watching it grow and change, and I'm excited about the growth and change that can happen in the future. I'd like see more greenways and more bikepaths if that is possible.

Please provide a brief summary of any other relevant qualifications (skills, abilities, interests and/or experience) you bring.

I've been told I'm a good listener. I enjoy trying to optimize solutions. For example, trying to find the solution that benefits the most people, if "the most people" is the criteria that we want to use. If we use another criteria, then I would enjoy trying to find the solution that optimized that alternative). Lastly, I live near and use a lot of the greenways on a regular basis, so I see a lot of the work that's been done and know about the work that needs to be done.

What perspective(s) do you bring to the board(s), commission(s), committee(s) or task force(s) to which you are applying?

I have lived in the Chapel Hill city limits for the past 16 years and the larger surrounding area since 1987. My use of the town's parks, greenways and recreation facilities has evolved over that time. Initially, I would spend hours at the playgrounds and pool with a young son. As he grew, we added weekends on the baseball fields participating in town's youth athletic league. Now that I am an empty-nester, I most often utilize the many greenway trails for biking and walking. I walk a greenway trail nearly every day and often photograph the wildlife I encounter along the way. Many people would be surprised at the great diversity of wildlife we have right here in town. Chapel Hill's parks, greenways and recreation offerings have enhanced my family's quality of life and I'd like to give back to help keep that positive impact going strong for the future.

Please provide a brief summary of any other relevant qualifications (skills, abilities, interests and/or experience) you bring.

While I am currently a wildlife photographer, I also have business and communication skills to bring...before pursuing my creative interests, I was a health program administrator at UNC and Blue Cross Blue Shield NC where I gained experience managing projects, budgets, grants and publishing.

Bio

Chapel Hill based writer and photographer Beth Waldron's focus on wildlife was born out of a simple discovery: nature soothes stress. Beth began walking for health and discovered that when she took a camera along, she walked longer and farther compelled by the temptation of what else might be around the next corner. What she found was by focusing her attention upon creatively capturing wildlife, she was not focusing upon daily stresses. The goal of her work is to share these wildlife encounters with others, so that they too might be inspired to seek out the creatures which share our state and enjoy the unique peace which time in nature provides.

What perspective(s) do you bring to the board(s), commission(s), committee(s) or task force(s) to which you are applying?

I grew up in China, then came to U.S. to study and finished my Master or Architecture degree in 2000. Then I worked as architectural / interior designer from 2000. I worked on projects in U.S. and oversea projects, these experiences really enriches my understanding about culture and how different cultures encounter with each other and spark something better. After we moved to Chapel Hill, it is the smallest city i ever stayed. (Seattle is the second smallest city I stayed and has 3 million population.) But it is so interesting in a way, because it is small town with a worldly attitude. Everyone I met with, be friends with all have the "engaging" attitude, then i started to participate more in town's activities, took clay classes, participated in People's academy and gradually I felt the need to part of the community I am in and would like to contribute anyway I can be.

Impermissible violations of due process include, but are not limited to, a member having a fixed opinion prior to hearing the matter that is not susceptible to change, undisclosed ex parte communications, a close familial, business, or other associational relationship with an affected person, or a financial interest in the outcome of the matter.”

Any member who violates these Ethics Guidelines may be subject to removal from the board or commission. If the advisory board or commission member believes he/she has a conflict of interest then that member should ask the advisory board or commission to be recused from voting. The advisory board or commission should then vote on the question on whether or not to excuse the member making the request. In cases where the individual member or the advisory board or commission establishes a conflict of interest, then the advisory board or commission member shall remove themselves from the voting area. Any advisory board or commission member may seek the counsel of the Town Attorney on questions regarding the interpretation of these ethics guidelines or other conflict of interest matters. The interpretation may include a recommendation on whether or not the advisory board or commission member should excuse himself/herself from voting. The advisory board or commission member may request the Town Attorney respond in writing.
